Details: [REDACTED] Los Angeles Division opened a [REDACTED] Terrorism Enterprise Investigation (TEI) into the International Solidarity Movement (ISM), based on information that members of this organization were conspiring to violate neutrality laws through direct actions against the Israeli government for its occupation of Palestine and to commit other criminal acts within the U.S. The Los Angeles Investigation has shown that most of the members of this group are U.S.

citizens or naturalized citizens that have been involved with anarchist groups such as the Ruckus Society. They also have shown a loose association with foreign terrorist organizations such as Hamas, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, and Islamic Jihad activists.

Since the inception of the investigation, Los Angeles Division has developed several confidential informants that are providing ongoing intelligence on group members and their activities.

Although Los Angeles Division's investigation is in the early stages, it hopes to develop sufficient predication

Based on investigations conducted in Dallas and Los Angeles Division, it is believed that this group poses a genuine threat to the domestic security of the U.S and to Israel due to the fact that through their U.S origins, ISM members can travel with little scrutiny to the middle east to conduct illegal activity. Although there has been no reporting of ISM members being used as suicide bombers, their predisposition to anti-capitalist and anti-global philosophy coupled with their sympathetic views on the Palestinian cause gives rise to the concern that ISM members can be directed, coerced, or through their own volition, be the purveyors of acts of terrorism.

Based on conversations with Los Angeles Division, [redacted] has determined that a coordination meeting should be held with representatives from [redacted] and offices currently conducting investigations related to ISM. The purpose of the meeting would be to assess the current investigative activity to date, share intelligence, and to coordinate and formulate strategy for future investigation of ISM.
